

CRACKSMEN BLOW THREE MORE SAFES

Two Harlem Robberies Net
Thieves $4,000 and One in Brooklyn $1,000.

HOLDUP ON THE BOWERY

Two Arrests as "Crimeless"
Wave Sweeps On—More
Police Enrolled.

The crime wave which the police say is non-existent went on being no-existent yesterday in a conspicuous manner. Two big safe looting in Harlem, the discovery that another Brooklyn safe had been proved unsafe, a Bowery hold-up that caused a policeman to break the speed laws in chasing the bandits with a borrowed automobile were among the developments.

With two cracksmen that netted some $4,000 yesterday, the police pushed Brooklyn back for premier honors as the best plucked section of the city. A robbery of the Harlem depot of the Standard Oil Company at 120th street and East River brought in $5,000 in currency to some needy burglar's family.

The thieves pried off a grating on the office window and through and solved the combination which Milton Heinrich, the cashier, had set on the safe Saturday evening, applying a charge of nitroglycerine for the purpose. The result, an explosion went right over the heads of two watchmen on duty in the building, who told the police that nothing had disturbed them during the night. Near the big safe was a smaller safe containing $93, and the burglars annexed this.

Harlem Drug Store Robbed.

A big surprise awaited Isiah Lewin yesterday morning when he opened the Liggett drug store at West 130th street and Eighth avenue, of which he is manager, and discovered that the safe had been victimized. The store was $1,000 the poorer and some thieves were that much richer in cash, besides War Savings Stamps and postage stamps, which had caught their fancy. The intruders had dragged the safe from the front to the rear of the store, in order that the prescription counter might shield their modest operations.

Brooklyn maintained a good average with the ripping open of a safe belonging to Israel Rokeach & Sons, 345 Hewes street, and an atrocity on the eggs, milk and cheese in the office of the Brooklyn Milk Company at 160 Fifth avenue. Al Rokeach said that the cracksmen got away with several thousand dollars in Liberty bonds and jewelry, but felt there was great cause for rejoicing in their neglect of another safe that contained more valuables than the one they dissected.

They gained entrance by scaling a fence in the rear, placing a ladder against the wall of the building and climbing a window. These burglars, it developed, wore gloves—not for style but for safety, since they would thus leave no finger prints.

The marauders who broke into the Brooklyn Milk Company's place found no money and became exasperated. Then ensued a Keystone comedy scene, in which several cases of eggs, some cheese and six bottles of milk were damaged beyond repair.

Nell Sheffall, the Emergency Fleet Corporation paymaster, was arraigned in the Fifth avenue court, Brooklyn, on a short affidavit charging him with robbery in connection with the holdup of a taxicab carrying $12,544.66 to workmen last Friday. On the application of L. Howard Imbrey, who called the accusation "ridiculous," Magistrate Brown adjourned the case until to-morrow and Sheffall went back to put on a new suit of clothes in the Raymond Street Jail.

HYLAN TO GET NEW NOTE

Citizens Union Sends Letter
by Special Delivery to Mayor.

The police situation broke out in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday. Counsel for Lieut. William A. Jones, pistol expert in the Police Department, applied to Justice Lasansky for an order requiring Commissioner Enright to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of court for failing to retire Lieut. Jones, who was an old time associate of "Honest Dan" Corrigan.

Also, at the risk of repeating themselves, the Citizens Union sent a letter to Mayor Hylan of New York and Palm Beach. The contents of the letter were left to be speculated upon.

The application to Justice Lasansky was made by J. Ward Pollette, attorney for Jones, who, as an acting captain in charge of the Third District, kept Harlem merry and fairly safe. After a service of thirty-one years Jones applied a year ago for retirement on half pay of $11,825 a year, enabling him to accept a Government position.

Physically Unfit for Work.
His application was made on the score of physical disability. A board of police surgeons found he was suffering from paralysis agitans—a malady similar to palsy—and their report was sustained by a second board. Commissioner Enright, however, took no action on their findings and September 19 Jones obtained from Justice Crosby of the Supreme Court a writ of mandamus directing the Commissioner to lay one of his most valued men on the shelf.

This drove Mayor Hylan ten days later to take to his pen—the Mayor was in New York at the time. He wrote to the Commissioner: "I commend you for the stand you have taken in this matter not to burden the taxpayer with pensioners because of influence so that they can be retired and accept other lucrative employment. I shall instruct the Corporation Counsel to proceed with this matter as far as the law allows him to go."

Commissioner Enright, according to Mr. Pollette, did not sign a waiver on Jones, and the latter felt compelled to jog his superior's memory. When the publicity aide called at Police Headquarters yesterday afternoon with a few vital questions on the Jones affair, neither Commissioner Enright nor his general factotum, John C. Hackett, was on hand with the welcoming smile.

Letter Sent to Mayor.
The city government committee of the Citizens' Union took their typewriter in hand in the office of Leonard M. Wallstein, counsel for the executive committee, and put together a letter that is likely to take the mind of Mayor Hylan off the jollyish of Florida.

The letter was sent by special delivery to Hisonson, and until it reaches him—which is expected to be by Thursday under the present post office system—its jeweled phrases will not be allowed to fill the aching void in the public mind. It is thought to be likely, however, that it was along the general lines of the missive which was sent last week to Robert L. Moran.

A delegation of Socialist Aldermen came to Police Headquarters yesterday. On being referred to Third Deputy Commissioner A. D. Porter, the Aldermen requested that the Commissioner make it plain that the owners of halls where the Socialists want to speak need fear no illegality in renting their premises for these gatherings.

James B. Smith, Assistant District Attorney, went right on yesterday with his preparations to present more evidence to the Grand Jury that will resume to-day its inquiry into the problem of what crap shooters at the game where Arnold Rothstein was grand marshal, did come lead tattooing on a couple of cops.

The Ram's-horn—able assistant to the Hot Spot, which makes Chalmers a great car

THERE has been so much favorable comment on the Hot Spot device of this great car is overlooked.

The Ram's-horn completes the magnificent work of the Hot Spot, the main purpose of which is to fletcherize or "crack up" and heat the gas coming from the carburetor.

Having done its work the Hot Spot passes the 100% conditioned gas on to the Ram's-horn. Now here is where an important job begins.

Gas is a peculiar thing. It "sticks in corners," "collects at any angle," goes back to its raw state unless it is handled quickly and scientifically.

So the Ram's-horn, as one might gather from the name, is without sharp corners, has easy bends and entices the gas smoothly into each cylinder. The inside of it is not a rough casting. It is as smooth as glass.

Note the drawing above. See that the distance from the Hot Spot to each cylinder is the same. That is the great secret of the Ram's-horn.

Most cars have a manifold that feeds gas into one cylinder, whatever is left over goes on into number two, the residue to number three and so on.

Cylinder number six is usually "starved" or gets "raw gas." Thus you see why the Chalmers engine runs so smoothly, why it gets every last bit of power out of gas, why cold weather does not affect its starting, and why it runs cool on a warm day.

If you have not looked over a present day Chalmers you have an incomplete education on the modern motor car. For Chalmers now is considered one of the few great cars of the world.
